

I would like to take the opportunity to request you allow Wisconsin's No-Call law to remain intact as is. I immediately signed up for the no-call registry when it was created, as I travel on business regularly and was sick of coming home to an answering machine filled with soliciting messages, rather than those from friends and family. I know companies must be able to conduct business, but I fail to see why I should have to be bothered by them if I do not wish to be. If I walked by the company store I can choose not to go in, and if they approached me to solicit business I could turn them away. For me the No-Call list is the same thing: my way of turning them away. Without the No-Call list, it would be like them breaking into my home to sell their products.....!
